a Japanese film with actresses Mayu Matsuoka and Yurika Otani. It was released in 2019. The Original Japanese Version – 144 minutes The Original Japanese Version – 144 minutes The gameplay is all about controlling a girl and her interactions with other girls and the environment. The goal is to get the audience to tap their smartphones.
Players are shown a short video clip of another player's choice of avatar and then shown a live stream video from the other player's smartphone. Players may tap "Like" or "Comment" on the video, making the other player aware that they have been tapped. The player has control of the avatar, and can choose to move around the room. Players can interact with other avatars by going up to them, giving or receiving gifts, exchanging phone numbers, dancing, or simply giving the other avatar a virtual pat on the back.
Players can also interact with the physical environment. They can click on the tablecloth to show more, and can also click the edge of the table to show more clothes. Music The soundtrack is composed by Shunsuke Kikuchi. It consists of a total of nine tracks. After the live stream is completed, the game will show the result of the tap. If you tap on the player that won, they will then have the opportunity to buy an avatar item from their in-game purse. Read more about the gameplay Please, read the gameplay before buying this
